

Dianne has tripped the light fantastic (or the heavy fantastic, depending on whether or not she was on a diet) since 1985 when she made her stage debut as “Della” in Della’s Diner. Since that auspicious beginning, she has enjoyed her roles playing cranky old ladies such as “Miss Mona” in Best Little..., “Miss Maude” in Smoke on the Mountain, “Betty” in The Foreigner, and “Annie Nations” in Foxfire. She is a founding member of the Georgia Mountain Players and is proud of the wholesome family entertainment and community service in which the Players participate and promote.

Dianne is married to Mike Martin, has two daughters, Michelle and Kym, and three grandchildren, Alex, Lauren and Jarod. She is a member of the Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church where she has directed many children’s musicals and performances. She gives God all the glory and praise for the fullness of her life, the blessings of a devoted and loving family, a wide circle of friends, and to the success of the Georgia Mountain Players.
